VISUAL CULTURAL STUDIES
COURSE CODE: ENG06EX06

Credit: L-T-P: 4-1-0

Total Credit Hours: 50

Pedagogy of the Course:

In a world increasingly mediated by the visual, to understand the production, circulation and reading thereof is essential. As a relatively new discipline, Visual Culture Studies brings critical theories from a wide array of fields including Sociology, Cultural Studies, Philosophy etc. to bear on a host of visual objects. The interdisciplinary nature of the programme allows one to analyze objects originating from a variety of contexts such as fine arts, mass media, corporate communication, visual communication design, film and architecture. The course attempts to adopt an overarching critical focus through which a range of visual domains, from image photography/painting), moving image cinema), digital image to graphic novels, in short both popular cultural or so-called high art images can be explored.

For the course 80 percent will be Class room teaching and 20 percent will be Internal Assessment comprising Unit test, Assignments and class room participation. The evaluation method for this course will be 20 percent Internal Assessment, 20 percent Multiple Choice questions Test, and 60 percent End semester examination.

COURSE TITLE: INTRODUCTION TO DIGITAL HUMANITIES

COURSE CODE: ENG06EX07

Credit: L-T-P: 4-1-0

Total Credit Hours: 50

Pedagogy of the Course:

Digital Humanities investigates how digitality is changing the way we produce and share knowledge in the humanities. The key problem here is this: the humanities is a discipline that values subtlety, nuance, conflicting ideas, and even paradox. When one is working with digital technology that is paradigmatically constituted by the principles of computing, ranging from word-processors to data visualization and digital maps, one has to negotiate with new challenges. So how does one practice literature and humanities in this context? This course is an introduction to some of the issue involved here.

For the course 80 percent will be Class room teaching and 20 percent will be Internal Assessment comprising Unit test, Assignments and class room participation. The evaluation method for this course will be 20 percent Internal Assessment, 20 percent Multiple Choice questions Test, and 60 percent End semester examination.

Pedagogy of the Course:

The objective is to introduce the learners to the techniques underlying the designing and administration of various kinds of language tests for the purpose of continuous evaluation as well as end of term examination.

TOPICAL OUTLINE:

UNIT I

Teaching and testing: what is testing; the concept of backwash; the need for tests; characteristics of a good test validity, reliability, practicability.

Unit 2

Kinds of tests : proficiency tests; achievement tests; diagnostic tests; placement tests; test types multiple choice, cloze tests, C-tests, dictation, etc..

Unit 3

Techniques of testing: stages of test construction; administration of tests; statistical analysis of test results.

Basic statistics: Central tendencies: mean, median and mode, skewness, groups and frequency analysis. Simple correlation and regression.

Unit 4

Testing language skills: testing listening; oral ability; writing; reading; grammar and vocabulary.

Total Credit Hours: 50

Pedagogy of the Course:

The objective of the course is to acquaint the learners of literature with the current trends related to the study of English language teaching. The students will be introduced to the basics of language teaching theory with reference to the foundational thought in the discipline. The course will familiarize students with the issues, perspectives, strategies and major disciplinary approaches. It will also emphasize on the difference between acquisition and learning, and various methodologies of language teaching.

For the course 80 percent will be Classroom teaching and 20 percent will be Internal Assessment comprising Unit test, Assignments and classroom participation. The evaluation method for this course will be 20 percent Internal Assessment, 20 percent Multiple Choice questions Test, and 60 percent End semester examination.

Instructions for Paper Setters:

The end semester examination will be of 3 hours and 60 marks. The first question, which would be compulsory, shall be short answer type word limit 125 each. It would carry 06 short questions, spread over the whole syllabus. The candidate will be required to attempt all short answer type questions. Each short answer type question would carry two marks $2 \times 6 = 12$. Rest of the paper shall contain 4 units. Each unit shall have two questions and the candidates shall be required to attempt one question from each Unit four in all. Each question shall carry 12 marks $12 \times 4 = 48$.

UNIT I

Foundations of the Field-
Language theory: Saussure, Chomsky,
Educational theory: Piaget and Vygotsky

UNIT II

Language teaching- principles and methodology
Language Acquisition in Early Childhood
Second Language Acquisition/Learning
Individual Differences in Second Language Learning

UNIT III

Total Credit Hours: 50

Pedagogy of the course:

This paper is a continuation of Elective Discipline I of Semester III. The paper is intended to familiarize the students with the principles of Linguistic study and their application to the English Language. The goal of linguistics is the enrichment of knowledge about the nature, grammar, and history of human language. The course is expected to familiarize students with the developments in the English language up to the present.

For the course 80 percent will be Class room teaching and 20 percent will be Internal Assessment comprising Unit test, Assignments and class room participation. The evaluation method for this course will be 20 percent Internal Assessment, 20 percent Multiple Choice questions Test, and 60 percent End semester examination.

Instructions for Paper Setters:

The end semester examination will be of 3 hours and 60 marks. There shall be 9 questions in all. The first question, which would be compulsory, shall be short answer type word limit 125 each. It would carry 06 short questions, spread over the whole syllabus. The candidate will be required to attempt all short answer type questions. Each short answer type question would carry two marks $2 \times 6 = 12$. Rest of the paper shall contain 4 units. Each unit shall have two questions and the candidates shall be required to attempt one question from each Unit four in all. Each question shall carry 12 marks $12 \times 4 = 48$.

UNIT I (Hours: 15)

Morphology: Morphemes and Allomorphs; Classification of Morphemes; Criteria for identifying morphemes; Analysis of morphological structure
Variation in morphology; the hierarchical structure of words; free and bound morphemes, allomorphs, zero morphemes, morphophonemics

UNIT II (Hours: 15)

Traditional grammar-Structural grammar-IC analysis-Phrase structural grammar-TG grammar
Transformational Generative Grammar with reference to Chomsky's distinction between deep and surface structures, kernel sentences and transformations; transformational rules

UNIT III (Hours: 15)

The Grammar of English - Basic sentence patterns in English, Description of the structure of Noun Phrase, Verb Phrase, Adjective and Adverbial Phrase in English with practical exercises)

Pedagogy of the Course:

This course provides an introduction to critical approaches and debates in the field of cultural studies. The programme is designed to provide grounding in the theoretical debates that inform contemporary investigations in number of areas, such as society, subjectivity, ethnicity, aesthetics, postmodern experience and cultural history. Lectures and discussions will be particularly concerned with the following questions: How do understandings and ideas about culture emerge from historical as well as theoretical perspectives? What arguments have historically been used to distinguish between high art and mass culture? How are race, gender, and class produced and consumed in the mass market? This course will employ a lecture and discussion format. Brief lectures will be given at the beginning of class in order to locate possible discussion topics. Students are expected to prepare discussion points for in-class conversation.

For the course 80 percent will be Class room teaching and 20 percent will be Internal Assessment comprising Unit test, Assignments and class room participation. Course Teachers:	Department Faculty/ Invited Speaker(s)

Credit: L-T-P: 4-1-0

Total Credit Hours: 50

Pedagogy of the course:

The paper will provide the students with an advanced set of readings in an area of choice to be determined by faculty/student interest on a pre-approved topic/area. The paper intends to enable the potential researcher to engage competently with critical debates, and present her/his views in a lucid, structured framework in this advanced course.

The course will be held in a seminar format, in which the students will read through the chosen papers and focus on critical issues, engage in critical evaluation of the text, as well as the issues/themes involved.

This paper may be focused around the review of literature, or on a pre-approved topic.

Evaluation:

The course will be evaluated by a series of assignments and written work during the semester, and a seminar presentation to be evaluated by ONE external examiner at the end of the semester.

COURSE TITLE: Introduction to Psycholinguistics
COURSE CODE: ENG06EX0 25

Credits: L-T-P: 4-1-0

Course Description

This is an introductory course in psycholinguistics, the study of how humans learn, represent, comprehend, and produce language. The topics covered in the course will include language structure, brain structures involved in language, recognition of words, sentence comprehension and production, language acquisition, neural representation of language, bilingualism, and language disorders. By the end of this course the student will have a basic understanding of both the research methodologies used in psycholinguistics, and many of the major findings in this emerging field. The course also aspires to impart a degree of confidence in reading and critiquing original psycholinguistics research articles.

Unit I

Introduction: What is psycholinguistics?
Language Science: How do we study it?
Properties of language
Structure of the brain
Biological Foundations of Language 1: Brain Lateralization
Biological Foundations of Language 2: Aphasia
Biological Foundations of Language 3: Methods
Reading: Lenneberg, E. H. (1967). Biological Foundations of Language.

Unit II

Language and Thought: Sapir-Whorf Conjecture

Learning Speech sounds as an infant
Reading: DeCasper, A. J., Lecanuet, J. P., Busnel, M. C., Granier-Deferre, C., & Maugeais, R. (1994). Fetal reactions to recurrent maternal speech. Infant Behavior and Development, 17(2), 159-164.

Pedagogy of the course:

The paper intends to expose students to research. The objective is to equip the students with the tools and materials of research, to acquaint them with the research process and various approaches towards research, and to train them in presenting their research. It makes the students understand some basic concepts of research and its methodologies, identify appropriate research topics, select and define appropriate research problem and parameters, prepare an abstract for a paper scholarly papers. It also aims to make the students able to organize and conduct research project/dissertation. Practical/Real world examples will be provided for the additional practice.

For the course 80 percent will be Class room teaching and 20 percent will be Internal Assessment comprising Unit test, Assignments and class room participation. The evaluation method for this course will be 20 percent Internal Assessment, 20 percent Multiple Choice questions Test, and 60 percent End semester examination.

Instructions for Paper Setters:

The end semester examination will be of 3 hours and 60 marks. The first question, which would be compulsory, shall be short answer type word limit 125 each. UNIT I Objectives and Types of Research

- Motivation and Objectives of Research
- Types of Research – Descriptive vs. Analytical, Applied vs. Fundamental, Quantitative vs. Qualitative, Conceptual vs. Empirical; Normative.
- Plagiarism, Copyright and Copyleft), IPR
- Ethics of Research on Human Subjects, Protection of Information, Informed Consent, IRB

UNIT II Research Question-Literature Review-Formation of Hypothesis

Defining and Formulating the Research Problem - Selecting the Problem - Necessity of defining the problem - Importance of literature review in defining a problem – Literature review – Primary and secondary sources – reviews, treatise, monographs – patents – web as a source – searching the web - Critical literature review – Identifying gap areas from literature review - Development of working hypothesis.

UNIT III Research Design

- Research design – Basic Principles, Need, and Features of a good research design.
- Developing a research plan - Exploration, Description, Diagnosis, Experimentation. Determining experimental and sample designs, Examination of hypothesis.

UNIT IV Research Methods

Pedagogy of the course

Pedagogy of the course

The objective of this paper is to sharpen the research aptitude of the learner. The students will be introduced to the research methodology, critical analysis of the given project as well as theoretical tools to carry out the research project. The dissertation is a compulsory component of the Master's programme. No formal teaching would be offered in the department for this course. The evaluation of this project will be based on Viva-Voce (50 marks) as well as Dissertation (150 marks).

Instructions and Evaluation: The Dissertation carries carry maximum 10 credits and is spread over two Semesters, i.e. Semesters III and IV.

The student shall prepare a dissertation under the supervision of assigned teacher of the department. She/he should also demonstrate the skills for the formulation of the research problem and the application of research tools. Total marks for the dissertation will be 200: 150 marks for the dissertation and 50 for the viva-voce examination. The viva-voce examination shall be held at the end of Semester IV and the students shall have to submit the dissertation by the 31st May or the date specified by the department. If any student is unable to submit his/her dissertation within stipulated time without due permission, then the student will be considered as absent from the exam and have to re-appear in the exam as per university policy and regulations. The evaluation of dissertation and viva-voce should be done by the external examiner only. External examiner shall be appointed as per University rules and regulations. The dissertation shall be written in English language only to develop the writing and research skills of the students except for the language departments. The following criterion is adopted to evaluate the dissertation. The external examiner also reserves the right to modify the criteria for dissertation as per requirement of the topic of dissertation:

a) Criteria for Viva-voce

The external examiner will evaluate the presentation of the students using the following criteria:

Criteria	Marks
Candidate's ability to discuss her/his research with focus and clarity	15
Depth of understanding: Candidate's defense of findings, interpretations & conclusions	10
Presentation skills eye contact, expression, posture)	15
Candidate's use of data/evidence to support claims slides/handouts etc)	10

b) Criteria for evaluation of dissertation

The dissertation shall be evaluated by one external examiner. The examiner shall evaluate the dissertation on the basis of following criteria. The following factors and percentages are to be taken into consideration by the examiners when assessing the dissertation:

a) Explanation, contextualization and articulation of research problem and objectives 20%, Marks=30) :

- Is the research problem clearly specified and contextualized?
- Are the research questions and hypotheses clearly formulated?
- Does the dissertation identifies the relevance, rationale and objectives of the proposed research?

b) Literature and/or technology review, as relevant 20%, Marks=30):

- Does the report include a comprehensive review and critical discussion of the relevant literature and/or technological developments?
- Is there a description on how the proposed research positions itself within the generic context of works which have been published in the area?

c) Methodology, design and implementation 20%, Marks=30):

- Is the adopted methodology and/or design approach clearly justified and described?
- Is the implementation well explained?
- Have any novel theoretical contributions from the student been rewarded appropriately?
- Is there any clear identification of any limitations, assumptions and constraints which may influence or condition in applying the methodology, and design approach?

d) Testing, results, analysis and evaluation 20%, Marks=30):

- Are the test procedures logical and objective?
- Do the proposed tests address the research problem being investigated?
- Are the test conditions, assumptions, constraints and limitations clearly identified?
- Are the results clearly presented, analyzed objectively and critically evaluated?
- Are the results and analyses discussed objectively? Do they lead to appropriate conclusions and/or fulfillment of the project aims?
- Does the analysis, evaluation and discussion of results exhibit independence of thought?
- Has any novelty in this regard been rewarded appropriately?

e) Report structure and organization of dissertation 20%, Marks=30):

- Is the style and structure of the dissertation logical, coherent, flowing and focused?
- Is the student's contribution clearly communicative to the reader?
- Does the report conform to the faculty guidelines?
- Does it make good use of language, citations, figures and tables?
